A Compendium of SAE Literature (1912-2018)

Becky Haddad, Grant L. Ermis, Jonathan J. Velez
Oregon State University

Need

- »»» Tenets regarding SAE come from a variety of perspectives
- »»» Experiential Component (EC) research themes have cycled with each evolution of the EC
- »»» Recommendations do not often present in terms of the multiple facets of the EC
- »»» Unified venture to support the holistic benefit of present day SAE research and practice

Method

- »»» Frames the current and historical trends
- »»» Compilation of journal and research trends
- »»» Assembling of over 700 publications

Results

- »»» Over 700 publications (1912-2018) have been cataloged & hyperlinked
- »»» Sorted by year, author, title, states represented, phase of EC, decade, and publication type
- »»» Currently exists in the form of a shareable and indexed Google Sheet

Advice & Cost

- »»» Continue to add publications to the compendium
- »»» Offers a common, summarized, and single research base
- »»» Identify gaps and opportunities
- »»» Formulate a cohesive line of inquiry for SAE research and practice
- »»» Identify collaborators to enhance the depth and breadth of identified SAE research
- »»» Resource should be made available across the profession
- »»» Add summaries from original authors (as available) to enhance the database
